

Queensland Ambulance Union

ARE YOU PROTECTED UNDER AHPRA & THE NATIONAL LAW?

Like with any other employment matter it's important that members contact United Workers Union as soon as they are aware of a pending interaction with AHPRA.

United Workers Union has specialist industrial officers who will advocate on members' behalf and make submissions in the course of any AHPRA process. It's important that members engage with appropriate advice as early in the process as possible.

United Workers Union also has experts in industrial law as it relates to Ambulance Officers and is best placed to support members with advocacy, interpretation of legislation and industry expectations.
